Temporary Closure Extension

To prevent the spread of Novel Coronavirus within the nation, Universal Studios Japan announced its temporary closure to at least the middle of May. In response to the Novel Coronavirus Emergency Declaration extended to May 31st, we have decided to extend the period of our temporary closure for the time being. The definite re-opening date will be announced later by considering the situation including the Government's further announcements.

The information regarding to the handling of the studio pass will be informed on our official web site
